Bibliography

690.

Teaching methods

Theory based classes supported by a variety of technical material including participation and discussion with the group of students.

Practical classes based on teacher presentation of psychotherapy cases and their discussion with students.

Evaluation Regimes (General and/or Alternative)

General evaluation regime:

It is required 2/3 of presences in the theoretical and in the practical lectures

General requirements for the evaluation: Active participation in the class, individual and group works and a final exam

Works:

First work:

Presentation of an individual written reflection on the motivations, expectations and demands of the clinical psychologist’s work.

Second work:

Presentation and discussion of group work with more in-depth study of program-related topics illustrated with examples of clinical practice in the training courses. The group work should be presented in a written form and may include developments stemming from discussion at the time of the oral presentation.
Evaluation Elements

(Dates due, weights, minimum required grades)

- Participation in theoretical lectures and in the discussion of the presented cases - 10%
- Individual and Group work - 40%
- Final exam: analysis of a psychotherapy case - 50%

10/20 is the minimum mark required

Rules for grade improvement

The mark improvement will be possible taking into account the repetition of the final exam. The previous marks for the participation and individual and group work will remain the same.

Rules for students having previously failed the course unit *

These students must be present at 2/3 of the practical lectures. In what concerns the theoretical lectures they must be present for the oral presentation of their group work.

Requirements on attendance and punctuality

Students must be present at 2/3 of the theoretical and practical lectures.

Rules for special students

(workers, elite athletes, student body leaders, military, fathers/mothers, with special needs) *

These students must be present at 2/3 of the practical lectures. In what concerns the theoretical lectures they must be present for the oral presentation of their group work.

Language of instruction

Disciplinary violations and penalties

According to the Evaluation of Learning Regulation of the Faculty of Psychology of the University of Lisbon, the following behaviors are considered as disciplinary offenses subject to disciplinary action:

a) To use or attempt to use materials, information, notes, study resources or other objects and equipment not authorized in academic exercises;

b) To help or try to help a colleague in committing a disciplinary offense;

c) To submit the same written work for evaluation in different course units without permission from the instructors, even if
with minor changes;

d) To present someone else's work as one's own;

e) To forge, or change without permission from the author, any information or citation in an academic work;

f) To interfere, change or attempt to change grades;

g) To try to prevent or interfere with the proper functioning of classes, research or other academic activities;

h) To make false accusations regarding instructors, governance bodies, other students or non-teaching staff of the FPUL;

i) To falsify signatures in attendance sheets, documents relating to evaluation elements or in any official document relating to an academic process or status.

Disciplinary offenses committed in any assessment element can lead to its annulment, and must be reported to the Pedagogical Council or, considering their gravity and repetition, may lead to other penalties, to be determined by the Rector of the University of Lisbon.
